

TAKE THE PLEDGE TO TAKE SMOKING OUTSIDE.

Secondhand smoke, sometimes referred to as environmental tobacco smoke, is a mixture of the smoke given off by the burning ends of tobacco products and the smoke that is exhaled from the lungs of smokers.

Secondhand smoke increases:

- the risk of heart disease.
- the risk of lung cancer.
- serious respiratory problems in children, including asthma and respiratory tract infections.
- the risk of Sudden Infant Death Syndrome (SIDS).
- middle ear infections in children.
- the risk of premature birth by 50–80%.
- the rates of hospitalization of infants with non-smoking mothers.
- the risk of breast cancer in women exposed at any age before first full-term pregnancy.

Here's what you can do:

- Don't smoke in your home or car.
- Politely let people know that you believe smokers should "take it outside" so that they know not to smoke in your home or car or around your children and loved ones.
- Don't allow your babysitters or childcare providers to smoke around your children.
- Clean away the tobacco smell in your home and car that can trigger your urge to smoke inside.
- Keep your home smoke-free to protect your loved ones, guests and pets from secondhand smoke exposure.

Some recent findings about Delaware:

- Most Delawareans agree that people should be protected from the dangers of secondhand smoke.
- Only one out of every five Delawareans smokes.

Sources: Center for Disease Control; BRFSS data, Delaware

Ready to quit smoking? Call 1-866-409-1858. If you're a Delaware resident 18 or older, a college student living in Delaware or a member of the military serving at Dover Air Force Base, you're eligible for this free service. You may even qualify for free quit-smoking aids like nicotine patches and gum.

DELAWARE HEALTH AND SOCIAL SERVICES
Division of Public Health
Tobacco Prevention and Control Program

You wouldn't grill in the house.

Why would you smoke in it?

TAKE THE PLEDGE TO TAKE SMOKING OUTSIDE.

DELAWARE HEALTH AND SOCIAL SERVICES
Division of Public Health
Tobacco Prevention and Control Program

TAKE THE PLEDGE TO TAKE SMOKING OUTSIDE.

Secondhand smoke, sometimes referred to as environmental tobacco smoke, is a mixture of the smoke given off by the burning ends of tobacco products and the smoke that is exhaled from the lungs of smokers.

Secondhand smoke increases:

- the risk of heart disease.
- the risk of lung cancer.
- serious respiratory problems in children, including asthma and respiratory tract infections.
- the risk of Sudden Infant Death Syndrome (SIDS).
- middle ear infections in children.
- the risk of premature birth by 50–80%.
- the rates of hospitalization of infants with non-smoking mothers.
- the risk of breast cancer in women exposed at any age before first full-term pregnancy.

Here's what you can do:

- Don't smoke in your home or car.
- Politely let people know that you believe smokers should "take it outside" so that they know not to smoke in your home or car or around your children and loved ones.
- Don't allow your babysitters or childcare providers to smoke around your children.
- Clean away the tobacco smell in your home and car that can trigger your urge to smoke inside.
- Keep your home smoke-free to protect your loved ones, guests and pets from secondhand smoke exposure.

Some recent findings about Delaware:

- Most Delawareans agree that people should be protected from the dangers of secondhand smoke.
- Only one out of every five Delawareans smokes.

Sources: Center for Disease Control; BRFSS data, Delaware

Ready to quit smoking? Call 1-866-409-1858. If you're a Delaware resident 18 or older, a college student living in Delaware or a member of the military serving at Dover Air Force Base, you're eligible for this free service. You may even qualify for free quit-smoking aids like nicotine patches and gum.

DELAWARE HEALTH AND SOCIAL SERVICES
Division of Public Health
Tobacco Prevention and Control Program

You wouldn't grill in the house. Why would you smoke in it?

TAKE THE PLEDGE TO TAKE SMOKING OUTSIDE.

DELAWARE HEALTH AND SOCIAL SERVICES
Division of Public Health
Tobacco Prevention and Control Program

TAKE THE PLEDGE TO TAKE SMOKING OUTSIDE.

Secondhand smoke, sometimes referred to as environmental tobacco smoke, is a mixture of the smoke given off by the burning ends of tobacco products and the smoke that is exhaled from the lungs of smokers.

Secondhand smoke increases:

- the risk of heart disease.
- the risk of lung cancer.
- serious respiratory problems in children, including asthma and respiratory tract infections.
- the risk of Sudden Infant Death Syndrome (SIDS).
- middle ear infections in children.
- the risk of premature birth by 50–80%.
- the rates of hospitalization of infants with non-smoking mothers.
- the risk of breast cancer in women exposed at any age before first full-term pregnancy.

Here's what you can do:

- Don't smoke in your home or car.
- Politely let people know that you believe smokers should "take it outside" so that they know not to smoke in your home or car or around your children and loved ones.
- Don't allow your babysitters or childcare providers to smoke around your children.
- Clean away the tobacco smell in your home and car that can trigger your urge to smoke inside.
- Keep your home smoke-free to protect your loved ones, guests and pets from secondhand smoke exposure.

Some recent findings about Delaware:

- Most Delawareans agree that people should be protected from the dangers of secondhand smoke.
- Only one out of every five Delawareans smokes.

Sources: Center for Disease Control; BRFSS data, Delaware

Ready to quit smoking? Call 1-866-409-1858. If you're a Delaware resident 18 or older, a college student living in Delaware or a member of the military serving at Dover Air Force Base, you're eligible for this free service. You may even qualify for free quit-smoking aids like nicotine patches and gum.

DELAWARE HEALTH AND SOCIAL SERVICES
Division of Public Health
Tobacco Prevention and Control Program

You wouldn't grill in the house.

Why would you smoke in it?

TAKE THE PLEDGE TO TAKE SMOKING OUTSIDE.

DELAWARE HEALTH AND SOCIAL SERVICES
Division of Public Health
Tobacco Prevention and Control Program